Privacy Policy

Last updated: 5 November 2026

What data this site collects, why it is needed and how you can manage it.

Who is responsible

This site is operated by Vadim Elsukov. For any question about your data, write to:

hvny.dev@gmail.com
https://t.me/hvnyContactBot

What data is collected

Through the contact form: your name, your message, your email or Telegram, and the time you gave consent. For spam protection, your IP address may be kept in server memory for up to one hour. The hosting provider may also process standard technical server logs. If you write directly to the Telegram bot, it receives your Telegram name, username, ID, language and message, and Telegram's rules apply as well. If you write by email, the message is handled by your mail provider and Google (Gmail), and their rules apply.

Why and on what basis

Form data is used only to read your message, reply and discuss possible work. The basis is your consent (Art. 6(1) (a) GDPR and the corresponding rule of the Serbian Law on Personal Data Protection). Temporary use of the IP address relies on a legitimate interest in protecting the site from abuse (Art. 6(1) (f) GDPR). Sending the form is voluntary, but it cannot be sent without a name, a contact, a message and consent.

Who receives the data

Form messages are delivered to the site owner through a bot in Telegram, an international messaging service, so the data may be processed outside your country. These countries may not offer the same level of protection as your own, and by ticking the box you consent to this transfer. The hosting provider has access to technical data as needed to run the site. Your data is not sold or used for advertising.

How long it is kept

Messages are kept for as long as the conversation requires, and no longer than two years after the last contact, unless a contract or the law requires longer storage. IP addresses used for spam protection are removed from memory within an hour.

Your rights

You may request access to your data, its correction, deletion, restriction of processing or a portable copy, and you may object to processing based on legitimate interest. You may withdraw consent at any time by writing through the contact above; this does not affect processing that took place before withdrawal. You may also complain to the Serbian Commissioner for Information of Public Importance and Personal Data Protection or to the data protection authority of your country.

Cookies

This site does not set cookies and does not use analytics or advertising trackers, so there is no cookie banner. If that changes, this policy will be updated first and your choice will be requested where required.

Changes to this policy

When the policy changes, the new version is published on the site with an updated date.